INTRODUCTION

SOCIÉTÉ ONTARIENNE
D'HISTOIRE ET DE GÉNÉALOGIE
Régionale de Toronto

This publication has been transcribed from the original records of the Leclair Funeral Home, owned by American-born Samuel C. Leclair and operated at 81 Beech Street East, Sudbury, Ontario, from August 1917 to July 1944.

This record of 1234 burials was transcribed from two ledgers archived at the Co-Operative Funeral Home (222 Lasalle Blvd. East, Sudbury, Ontario). In these ledgers there were several years where no funerals were recorded. The answer to the "mystery of the missing years" appears to be due to the fact that Mr. Leclair pursued other business interests during this time frame.

Other funeral homes were also operating in Sudbury at this time. Researchers may find it helpful to note that the Leclair Funeral Home and the Ducharme Funeral Home (records are presumed lost) primarily served the Francophone Roman Catholic community, while the Jackson & Barnard Funeral Home served the other various ethnic groups that made up the large immigrant population of the early years of the Sudbury mining camp. The Jackson & Barnard Funeral Home records for the years 1913 - 1949 have been transcribed and may be accessed by purchasing the Index, or making a request to our Queries Co-ordinator.

The funeral home journals were preprinted, however, for various reasons, all categories may not have been filled in. This publication lists the names of the deceased, the age at death, the date of death, the place of birth, occupation, residence, place of death, place of burial, date of funeral, minister, name of doctor, person ordering the funeral, and person to whom the funeral is charged. Please note that we have produced a Maiden Name Index as well as three appendices of the various persons associated with the funerals.

The original hand-written ledgers were transcribed by Pauline Emond (nee Dufresne) and Rochelle True (nee Dufresne), two very competent and dedicated members of the Sudbury District Branch of the OGS. As with all work of this nature, errors are still possible, therefore, the researcher is advised to employ all normal precautions.

On behalf of researchers everywhere, the Sudbury District Branch of the Ontario Genealogical Society sincerely thanks the Co-Operative Funeral Home for graciously allowing access to their records and for providing office space to the transcribers.

Pioneer Undertaker Dies, Came to Sudbury in 1914

One of Sudbury's pioneer undertakers and a well-known city business man, Sam C. Leclair died following a short illness.

Sam. Leclair

Born in Republic, Mich., 75 years ago, Mr. Leclair operated a funeral parlor on Beech St. for many years. He was employed by the Co-operative Funeral Home at the time of his death. Mr. Leclair came to Sudbury from Larchwood where he operated a hotel until 1914. He established a second-hand store on Lisgar St. and sold it to buy a funeral home to the Co-operative Funeral Home on Beech St. He sold his business to J. B. Ducharme in 1928 and left Sudbury. He returned to the city in 1930 and operated a restaurant on Beech St. In 1935, he returned to the undertaking profession at his old stand. His business was bought out by Ducharme in 1944 and Mr. Leclair retired. He later joined the staff of the Co-operative Funeral Home.

His first wife, the former Eleonore Paquette predeceased him in 1911. Two years later he married Alma Piche, of Sudbury, who survives. Other survivors include one son Paul, and three daughters Mrs. David Leclair, of Minnow Lake, Mrs. Arthur Evans, of Lockerby, and Mrs. Ernest Charlebois, of Los Angeles. Also surviving are a brother Elzear Leclair and a sister Mrs. Lucie Kingsley, both of Sudbury.

The body is at the Co-operative Funeral Home, Beech St., until Tuesday morning when funeral mass will be sung in St. Anne's Church at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in the Sudbury Roman Catholic Cemetery.
